

Climate protests Change starts with you.

Undemocratic climate protests can have serious effects that undermine the climate movement's aims and hurt both the environment and society.

Undemocratic climate protests may be motivated by a sense of urgency and frustration, it is critical to consider alternative approaches based on democratic principles and practises what we do.

Violence, Property destruction, or interruption of public services, which can have long-term consequences

What we need

Education and awareness-raising campaigns
Lobbying efforts, stakeholder engagement, and public pressure campaigns

If you need violence to enforce your ideas.
Your ideas are worthless
