WHAT'S NEXT FOR OLD MACDONALD?

STARTERS

FOOD SYSTEM

This starter is more than meets the eye. At first glance, many would think that it consist only of production. But biting into it, the flavours will blow you away. It is an intricate web that includes transport, manufacturing, retailing, consumption, and food waste.

Caution: environmentally destructive

FOOD SECURITY

The most popular dish in our restaurant. It has been highly recommended by the chef and the FAO. Due to the scarcity of ingredients as a result of climate change, the restaurant can only serve 1 in 9 people. Please approach a waiter to donate in order to make this dish physically, socially and economically accessible for all

ANIMAL AGRICULTURE

Made from delicious and fresh ingredients such as Employment and the Economy.

Caution: Produces substantial amount of GHG
Recommended for your children who hate vegetables

CLIMATE CHANGE

Oven-roasted planet (Soup available upon request)

SIDES

UNFCCC

These breadsticks serve as a base to the climate regime.
It does not address emissions sector-specifically nor does it address food security or (animal) agriculture.

It does obligate Parties to report mitigation measures, in which you could add meat/dairy (or other agricultural products) if you'd like.

KYOTO PROTOCOL

A warm plate of garlic bread.

Does not differ to much from the UNFCCC, merely expands Parties' on reporting obligations and includes agriculture as a sector in Annex A..

No mention of food security

PARIS AGREEMENT

This serving of chips ensures that food security is addressed in the Preamble.

With a sprinkle of salt, it links our food systems to climate change.

No mention of agriculture.

KORONIVIA JOINT WORK ON AGRICULTURE (KJWA)

Watch out for this new addition to the menu: Kimchi Fries!

It's flavor may come as a shock as it finally addresses the agriculture sector in the context of climate change.

We feel that there should be an express inclusion of meat and hence are experimenting for that to be included in the dish.

It is set to be finalise and be added to the menu in June 2022.

ENTREES (EUROPEAN)

COMMON AGRICULTURE POLICY

This platter is the quintessential European experience.

It is served with two pillars:

- (I) Potatoes: monetary support to farmers; and
- (II) Meat: Comes in a form of rural development policy to foster agricultural competitiveness.

This platter is good for sharing, similar to the Effort Sharing Decision, though we must warn you that there is no Southeast Asian counterpart to this dish.

EUROPEAN GREEN DEAL (VEG)

This classic ratatouille tastes so good it allows us to imagine for a moment that we achieved climate neutrality.

This delicious package also hopes to persuade you to relook at the climate laws and policies, for a better Earth.

If enough of us order it, our GHG reduction target might just hit 50%!

FARM TO FORK STRATEGY

Old Macdonald's newest recipe!

The chicken is roasted with his secret herbs and is served with a salad from seasonal vegetables to avoid food waste and ensure food security for all.

ENTREES (SOUTHEAST ASIAN)

Chef's Message: ASEAN food varies from EU food. It contains a lot of spice so please proceed with caution. It also varies amongst countries as it is intergovernmental in nature rather than supranational like the EU.

Enjoy!

CLIMATE RESILIENCE NETWORK (V)

Nasi Goreng (Fried Rice) is a dish that calls for a collaboration of ingredients and States. It exists in a different form across all ASEAN countries and provides a good platform for the regional exchange on climate smart agriculture.

You can add meat on request.

JOINT STATEMENT ON KJWA

Coming in hot and spicy are Tom Yum noodles as the ASEAN community calls for the international community to acknowledge the importance of agriculture and to implement the KJWA now!

SPA FOR COOPERATION OF LIVESTOCK

This dish serves a powerful flavour punch as it aims to address all regional issues relating to the animal agriculture sector. It also reminds one of home and that ASEAN aims to support smallholder producers to ensure that no one gets left behind!
